

Welcome to the course, joining instructions will be with you shortly!

By signing up the The Magician, you agree to the following T&Cs:

1. By signing up and paying your deposit, you have claimed one of a limited number of places on The Magician course. Should you choose not to continue the course for any reason, you will remain liable for the rest of the course fee unless otherwise agreed. In the event of the course not running for any reason you would receive a full refund.
2. Your data (name and contact details) is kept by me for the purposes of administering the course. It may be viewed by myself or my admin team, and is never shared with any third party.
3. Live sessions are recorded for the purposes of supplying the video to course participants only. Video will not be shared on any other platform without express permission being sought first, and is visible solely to course participants, myself, and the admin team, with the exception of where we as a group do a Tarot reading for someone outside of the course, when the video will be made available to this person only.

Blessings,

Keziah
